

Spotlight on Our Partners

This month, we want to highlight Senior Living Options as one of our valued industry partners.

SLO provides a unique, invaluable and FREE service to seniors-in-transition and their families, both here in the Coachella Valley, as well as communities outside the area. When family members themselves are no longer able to provide the level or length of care that seniors require, SLO steps in and researches and explains all the living/housing options, costs and benefits available to that individual. SLO then presents seniors and their families with the best possible solution to their needs and counsels them through the decision-making process so they are confident in the level of assistance and care they have chosen.

With so many options for long-term care, it can be overwhelming and even scary to research and understand them in all in an effort to make the best decision for yourself or a loved one.

With more than 20 years of industry experience, SLO owners Susan and Rick Peterson, with the help of their caring and involved staff, Rebecca and Jeff, will help you understand your options, ensure you get your questions answered, assist you in your decision and stand by you in order to smooth out and ease the transition process.
